GENERAL GRANT.

Preparations for His Burial.

Tributes of Respect from Various Sources.

HEADQUARTERS GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC, DEPARTMENT OF KANSAS.

WICHITA, KAN., July 23, 1885.

General Order No. 6.

It is with profound sorrow that these Headquarters learn of the death of our eminent comrade, General U. S. Grant, and, believing that the entire comradeship of this Department will join in showing respect for the noble deceased, by proper memorial services, it is therefore ordered that the Posts of this Department meet at their respective post rooms or other places of public assembly, on the day and hour named for burial, where memorial services will be held in accordance with the service book of our order.

By command of
M. STEWART,
Dep't Commander.
L. N. WOODCOCK, Ass't Adj't Gen.

STATE OF KANSAS, EXECUTIVE DEPT.,
TOPEKA, July 23, 1885.

A telegram announces the death of Ulysses S. Grant.

This intelligence, although anticipated for many months, will be received by the people of this state with all the shock and sorrow of a personal bereavement.

For nearly a quarter of a century past, Ulysses S. Grant has been the first citizen of the United States. His exalted patriotism, his genius as a soldier, his brilliant services as the Commander of our armies, his honest and loyal administration of the Presidency, and the purity and modesty of his private life—these splendid qualities, so signally illustrated during his whole career, have filled the world with his fame; and the people of every civilized Nation will mingle their tears with those of the citizens of this country around his open grave.

As a mark of respect for his illustrious memory, the Executive Council has directed that the State House be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days, and that the Executive Offices of this State be closed on the day of his funeral. And I do hereby suggest and request that the people of Kansas assemble, on that day, in churches, school houses, and other places of public assemblage, there to do fitting honor to the memory of the most renowned soldier of the age, and the First Citizen of the Republic.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto subscribed my name, and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the State. Done at Topeka, this twenty-third day of July, in the year of Our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five.

JNO. A. MARTIN.
By the Governor,
E. B. ALLEN,
Secretary of State.

General Grant's funeral will take place in New York City on the 8th inst.

Riverside Park is the burial place.

The general's body is in charge of U. S. Grant Post, G. A. R.

There will hardly be an end to the number of civil and military organizations which will have a place in the funeral procession. General Hancock has been designated by the president to assume command of the procession.

SETTLED DEFINITELY.

By reference to our report of the rainfall at this place for the month of July, it will be seen that the aggregate is six and seventeen-hundredths inches. It has also been so well distributed as not to threaten for a day or an hour the injury of the growing crops. Farmers express the belief that an elegant corn crop is assured. But the water gauge does not reveal quite all the water which fell here in July. The rain of Thursday, the 30, was very heavy; so much so that the gauge at the railway depo, which holds two and one-fifth inches, was overruled. Mr. Moore, the gauger, thinks that about two and a half inches fell during the day of the 30. It rained considerably in the night, and the gauge, as can be seen, marks only two and thirty-eight-hundredths inches for both day and night.

The boom is here to stay for nearly another year, at least.

NO REPORT.

Dr. Fuller, the secretary of the judicial convention, promised faithfully to send us a report of the proceedings in time for insertion in this week's WORLD. The report has not arrived.

Dr. York, of Rawlins county, was chairman of the convention.

L. K. Pratt was nominated for judge on the sixty-eighth ballot. On motion of W. S. Tilton, his nomination was made unanimous.

We are in receipt of a pretty card, inviting our presence at the marriage of Mr. J. H. Wright and Miss Emma Webb at the residence of the bride's parents, in Lenora, Kansas, Thursday evening, July 31. It is not going beyond the bounds of propriety to assert that Mr. Wright is one of the nicest young men of our acquaintance. He is the editor of the Lenora Leader, and jots down P. M. past his name. He has bravely succeeded the hardships of frontier life, and deserves what we have no doubt that he has found—that gem among all precious treasures, a good wife.

Colby has a militia company.

—The teachers' institute is half out.

—J. Werlich declares himself a grauger.

—H. J. Hille is taking stock in North Millbrook soil.

—Mr. C. W. Smith, of Stockton, was in town last Saturday.

—Ed Sheldon, the Ellis merchant, has opened a store at Grinnell.

—The weeds in the court house park have been hoed down this week.

—Werlich & Kershaw, tiring of our so-near-tropical sun, have had an awning built in front of their store building.

—Mrs. J. J. McGill, from Colorado, and her mother-in-law were visiting her mother, Mrs. C. M. Paul, at this place, last week.

—Thomas R. Evans has come back to Trego county to stay. For several years he has been stopping at one place, then another, in Colorado.

—Stream Bros. & Crawford are a new real estate firm at Cleveland, St. John county. They have enlisted our good wishes for their welfare by patronizing us with liberality.

—Parks Old Fort Brown is back again. We had supposed him dead to this locality forever, on account of the length of his absence. He says he has come back to work his Fort land.

—On the arrival of the news of General Grant's death, the flag over G. A. R. Hall was placed at half mast. The glorious emblem was blown to pieces during the rain of Thursday afternoon.

—Mr. W. G. Porter, of Colby, Thomas county, has been patronizing our job department with liberality. He means business, and shows that he understands the nature of its foundation stone.

—Thomas Tarpy, of Ogallah, is gardening considerably this summer. He sells a good many vegetables in Wa-Keeney. We acknowledge the receipt of a donation from him of a number of squashes.

—Armstrong Bros., of Grinnell, we are impelled to say, are doing an immense land business. They do not consume all the job stock which they get of us without reaping much fruit. We are very sure of this.

—L. March, an uncle of our banker's, was here for a number of days preceding Wednesday morning. He purchased some land in this county. From here he went south, vowing that he would have more.

—Terrell, we hear, has decided not to have a windmill erected at the source of his Millbrook waterworks. We hear that the 4,460 feet of pipe will be taken up. North Millbrook seems to have the victory in the fight between the two hamlets.

—The drooping spirits of the poor printer never can be revived materially by the chance to publish such a puny tax list as our county treasurer has palmed off on us this year. Trego county dirt is looking up high.

—General Grant memorial services will be held at the church Sunday morning at 11 A. M. Short addresses will be delivered by Rev. Mr. Stayt and several others of our citizens. Commander Caddick requests that the members of Captain Trego Post, G. A. R., meet at G. A. R. Hall on Sunday, at 10 o'clock A. M., sharp, for the purpose of marching to the church.

—Sheriff Baker was almost killed Monday afternoon. He had reached Millbrook, got his dinner there, and started down to North Millbrook to view the proceedings of the judicial convention. He had not become fairly seated in the rear end of the wagon in which he was to ride until the said-to-be drunken driver caused the vehicle to take a sudden and frightful jerk forward, throwing Mr. Baker violently to the ground. The back of the top of his head struck the ground with great violence. The wonder is that his neck was not broken. As it was, his head, neck and body were bruised seriously, and for several hours he lay unconscious. Toward evening consciousness was regained, and he was barely able to sit up. He recovered gradually, until now he is about well.

—Hinshaw's Home.

Mr. T. J. Hinshaw has frequently asked us to visit his farm. We have as often told him, with entire truth, that it was our intention to do so at the first opportunity. Now, before the opportunity for us to do so has occurred, a Ness City Times reporter has tarried there, and we take great pleasure in publishing his statement in full:

"On his return from Wa-Keeney this week, Mr. Sam. A. Smith stopped awhile at Mr. Hinshaw's, 7 miles this side of Wa-Keeney. Mr. H. has a fine bunch of cattle and is also a good farmer, but what he prides himself on is his success in growing fruit trees and vines. He has only been on his farm three or four years, but he has succeeded in raising raspberries, plums, &c., and has apple trees growing and loaded with fruit, that are only three years old from the seedling. Mr. Smith brought one of the apples, called Hinshaw's Favorite Seedling, down with him, and we have seen it with our own eyes. We speak of this matter simply to show what may be done in this fertile country in the short space of three years."

Mr. Hinshaw, the WORLD will add, belongs to the industrious, painstaking class who are going to make the western Kansas of the near future bloom in competition with the far-famed bloom.

Drowned Coming to Wa-Keeney.

Ness City News, July 25.

Last Sunday morning Ed. Walters, of Highpoint township, lost a horse in the Walnut, at Woodell's crossing, and at the same time had a very narrow escape from losing his life. Mr. Walters had started for Wa-Keeney, and in crossing the stone bridge—over which about a foot of water was flowing—his horse became frightened and jumped from the bridge on the up-stream side. After floundering about for some time the horse was drawn by the current under the stone arch and swept away down stream, and drowned. At the same time Mr. Walters was carried to the bridge, but succeeded in catching the stone and held his head above water until his cries arrested the attention of D. F. Woodell and his father, who, fortunately, were near the scene. These gentlemen quickly came to the aid of the unfortunate man, and although they were able to reach him, their united strength was not sufficient to overcome the force of the current which pressed Mr. Walters' body beneath the stone arch. To their efforts was soon added the help of another party, but the three were not able to extricate Mr. Walters from his uncomfortable and perilous position. At length a long rope was procured and the three persons above mentioned, with the aid of Gilmore Kinney and others, attached it to his body, and by going up the stream succeeded in rescuing the almost drowning man from what was a very near approach to a watery grave. *

Normal School Notes.

It is a success.
Lecture Tuesday evening of next week by Prof. John D. Parker, Ph. D., B. D., of Fort Hays, Kansas. Subject: "Primitive man on the North American Continent."

Thursday evening of next week, Hon. W. H. Pilkinton will give an illustration of singing geography.

These names have been added to those who were in attendance last week: Sylva Humphrey, Hays City; Carrie Street and Nora Gleason, Wa-Keeney; Thos. Fouts, Colby.

Straw Settlements Scooped.

Kenneth Sentinel, July 30.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction J. H. Lawrence came up to Kenneth last Saturday, and we understand that thirty-three different parties who had intended to make proof of settlement on school land that day suddenly changed their minds and concluded that they were not yet quite sure that they were "settled." We are informed that Mr. Lawrence has secured Mr. Chambers to look after this matter in the future.

—We wish to inform our Gentlemen Customers that we have received our Fall and Winter Samples of Clothing from Cahn & Bergman's celebrated tailoring establishment of Chicago.
